Instructions

The center square represents where you live. The eight squares surrounding it represent the eight households closest to you (e.g. houses in your cul-de-sac, apartments in your hallway, etc.). In each box try to do the following:

a – Write the names of the people who live in the house represented by the box. If you can give first and last names, that's great. If it's only first names, that's fine too.

b – Write down some relevant information about each person, some data or facts about him or her that you couldn't see just by standing in your driveway, things you might know if you've spoken to the person once or twice. We don't mean drives a red car or has yellow roses by the sidewalk, because you could see that from your driveway. We mean information you've gathered from actually speaking to a neighbour, such as grew up in Calgary, is a lawyer, plays golf, is from Ethiopia, had a father in World War II.

c – Write down some in-depth information you would know after connecting with people. This might include their career plans or dreams of starting a family or anything to do with the purpose of their lives. What motivates them to do what they do? What would they say about God? What do they fear most? What are their spiritual beliefs and practices? Write down anything meaningful that you've learned through interacting with them.
